THE PREVENTION OF RSV BRONCHIOLITIS IN CHILDREN

For the 2024/2025 season, all infants or children aged 6 - 24 months with risk factors will be offered free immunisation against the Respiratory Syncytial Virus (RSV)* before discharge from the birth centre.

For more information, talk to your paediatrician or inquire at the paediatric vaccination services or your hospital of reference.

* Respiratory Syncytial Virus (RSV) is particularly dangerous for all infants and young, fragile children under two years of age.
